OPP meeting attempts to clear the air

by Andrew Milne

OPP regional superintendant Bill Hutton berated community policing volunteers and the press last week over news reports and letters about the OPP decision to amalgamate the Minden and Coboconk detachment.

Hutton himself, however, then came under fire from officers present, over statements implying manpower shortages and communications difficulties are not serious.

"I have some serious concerns," said Hutton. "In the district in which I used to be the district commander, all our community policing volunteers used to be sworn in, and had an oath of office and an oath of secrecy. And I don't know what the benefit is of telling the press what schedule our officers are working, and when they're working. That is putting our officers in jeopardy."

The meeting was something of a disappointment to county council members and OPP employees who had come expecting to hear an announcement on negotiations to bring the detachment back to Minden.

Instead, they heard Hutton protesting that he has been misrepresented and unfairly criticized, and OPP officers in attendance taking advantage of the opportunity to question Hutton directly on his claims over manpower and communications.

Fall Fair Royalty

Former Reeve always put community first

A stalwart but gentle supporter of the community passed away last Sunday.

Former Reeve, Warden, businessman and active community booster, Lyle McKnight, died August 25. He was 67 years of age.

Born in Blairhampton, Lyle was always a vital member of the community. From his first days, working with his father Lawrence, in the haulage business, through to his election as Warden, the highest political office in the county, Lyle directed his energies to the betterment of the area.

While his accomplishments were many, those who remembered his impact on the community also recalled his finely-honed sense of diplomacy and his calming influence. "He was a 'class act' politician," Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey commented following the funeral service Wednesday. "I have never known him to be critical of anyone. Lyle was a pleasure to work with."

Fearrey, who delivered the eulogy at the service, described the former politician as, "... a man of fine principle, one respected by his colleagues. He will be sadly missed, but long remembered."

Lyle McKnight died August 25.

McKnight was elected to the Anson, Hindon and Minden council in 1971 and served as a member of council for a number of years. In 1982 he was elected Reeve and two years later his fellow politicians chose him to serve as Haliburton County Warden.

It was during his term as reeve that he suffered a stroke. The effects only slowed his drive momentarily, and after a period of recuperation he returned to the head of the municipal council table and later became warden.

Those who remembered Lyle often spoke of his quiet diplomacy as one of his greatest assets. Fearrey mentioned an incident during McKnight's term as reeve. He had requested provincial assistance to upgrade Minden's Main Street, but was told that no funds were available. The Reeve, not satisfied with the response, requested and received a

Petition tops 1600 signatures; last week to sign

According to organizer Lynda Burley, the petition to reinstate the full OPP detachment in Minden has reached 1600 signatures. The count was taken on August 29.

The petition was started last month in response to the down-grading of the Minden detachment, which serves Haliburton County, and its amalgamation with the detachment in Coboconk.

The petition, which is available at locations throughout the county, (see list at end of article) will be withdrawn on Thursday when it will be prepared for presentation to MPP Chris Hodgson. The document will eventually be tabled in the provincial legislature. As a member of Cabinet, Victoria/Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson will be unable to formally table the petition, but will have another member of the Legislature do so.

Burley noted that a number of individuals have signed the petition on behalf of other residents of the community. She pointed out that while this may be done with the best of intentions, only original signatures are acceptable. "We had one instance where someone added twelve names and signed under the heading 'with the permission of....' Unfortunately we cannot consider these twelve names valid since these 12 individuals would not have had an opportunity to have read what they were signing."

Two new locations have been added to the sites where the petition is available. They are: vanLieshout Realty Limited on Highland Street in Haliburton and Jay Lake Tent and Trailer Park on Highway 121 east of Minden.

Those wishing to sign the petition are reminded it will only be available until this Thursday, September 5. The other locations in the county where the petition is available include:

Minden - Novel Ideas, Village Chalet and Family Restaurant, The Art Affect Gallery, Godfather's Pizza and Lil' Bitza Bargains.

Stanhope Township - Maple Lake Store, Stanhope Municipal Office, Buckslide Tent and Trailer Park, Little Hawk Resort and Oakview Lodge.

Carnarvon - Four Seasons Country Store and Northland Marine and Storage.

Lutterworth Township - Miner's Bay Lodge.

West Guilford - Rip's Sleepy Hollow.

Dorset - Sherborne et al Township Office, Dorset Building Centre, the Community Policing Office, Re/Max Real Estate Office and Baum Real Estate Office.

meeting with the then Minister of Transportation, James Snow.

During the meeting in Queen's Park, the minister continued to insist that there was no money available and the reeve continued to press the issue. He left Toronto without a definite answer, however several weeks later the municipality received a letter saying that money had been found to help repair the Minden streets and sidewalks. "When you walk on the sidewalks of Minden's Main Street, you can thank Lyle McKnight," Fearrey said.

While the political careers of Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Jeanne Anthon and Lyle McKnight did not cross, she described him as, "a vital member of the community who contributed a great deal. I admired his compassion and sense of community. He was a great booster for Minden and Haliburton County."

Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Sinc Nesbitt worked for Lyle McKnight and his father prior to World War Two. He said the McKnight family and Lyle in particular, were well known for their honesty and fairness in dealing with employees and customers alike.

In later years Nesbitt admired McKnight's ability to bring calm to potentially fractious political debates He recalls one instance where the debate had slowly become more heated until McKnight stepped in. "He held up his hand," Nesbitt recalled, " and asked 'Sinclair, are we having a tiff?' When I said yes, it appeared that was the case, he said, 'Well lets stop now and start this discussion all over again.' The action completely defused the situation and allowed the issue to be resolved to everyone's satisfaction." Nesbitt concluded, "Lyle McKnight produced more for this community than anyone else I know."

While the political arena provided Reeve McKnight with a high profile, he was also active in other aspects of the community. He was a charter member of the Minden Kinsmen Club and the Minden K-40, a senior extension of the service club. While the term 'charter president' is not technically correct, in describing his involvement with the Kinsmen Club, friend, neighbour and fellow Kinsmen member, Eldon Deacon, noted that Lyle stepped in as president shortly after the club was formed in 1956. "He always had a strong interest in the community and found a way of making a contribution to it through the club," Deacon commented. He also noted that Kin Lyle was the first member of the Minden Club to serve as Deputy Governor for Kinsmen.

Following his political career, McKnight remained active as a member of the Staanworth Non-profit Housing Corporation. Former Board chairman Ed Pergolas described McKnight as a tireless worker for the community housing project.

McKnight was the coach of two championship Monarch hockey teams in the mid 50's.

His children remember him as a man always involved in the community, concerned about its future and eager to see it grow. He was an active members of the Minden United Church and, as his son Larry described, "...a person who lived his Christian values every day of the week." A dedicated family man, he would try to include them in as much of his work as possible. He enjoyed snowmobiling and was always eager to get out on the trails.

He was married to Linda for 48 years and the father of three, Larry, Lu Ann and Laurie.

Lyle McKnight was never one to sit back and let someone else get things going for the community. He was always working to make things better but was also willing to allow someone else to take the credit for the success. There is little doubt he left his mark on the community in many ways. He will be missed.

OPP meeting

Anticipated announcement missing

Hutton made no announcements during the meeting regarding negotiations to re-establish the local detachment, reiterating only his earlier position that the Ontario Realty Corporation is looking at some possibilities, and that he would prefer the detachment be located in Minden.

Said Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Jeanne Anthon, "The community is very disappointed that this wasn't an announcement of security of the OPP presence. I guess there was never any promise that was part of the agenda, but we felt perhaps that there would be important announcements made."

County council's OPP liaison, Jim McMahon, commented, "We were under the impression that there was going to be an announcement made regarding the location or an update on the present situation. And then there wasn't... It's disappointing that we're no further ahead now. Everybody gets his hopes up when there's a meeting called, and they bring all the players together — the OPP staff, and the office staff. And then to have nothing said to them, that must be disappointing for them too."

McMahon and Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey were both invited to the meeting by management, but were not told what, precisely, would be discussed. Fearrey invited Anthon.

Though he named no names, Hutton's criticisms of community policing volunteers referred specifically to volunteers who had criticized him for comments made to county council about the secondment of officers outside the county, and who had released information to the media about staffing levels.

John Goverde, president of the Wilberforce and area police support association, had spoken to local papers, including The Times, about both those issues the first week of August.

Wasaga Beach detail

Hutton says that at the July 17 meeting of county council, comments taken by some, including county council members, to mean that the detachment was not sending officers to the Wasaga Beach detail didn't mean that exactly. It came to light only a little later that two officers had been sent to Wasaga.

Said Hutton, "For those of you who weren't at the meeting, you have to know what the question was... I was asked by a local councillor if the practice of other detachments, sending officers to Wasaga Beach every weekend, was always happening. The answer to that question was that since 1993 that has not happened."

Hutton added that he had given direct orders that, if the officers were scheduled for duty, they shouldn't go to Wasaga, and that the two officers who did go were off duty.

County council sources present for that meeting (July 17) however say that it was their understanding Hutton meant no officers would be sent at all, and both were surprised and disappointed to find out otherwise, following reports in the media.

Said Anthon, "The understanding I had was that they weren't being seconded out of the area. And I have a lot of concerns about the fact that during the summer months, our expanded residency and tourist influx is not being met with the appropriatenumber of officers."

McMahon, though he says he understands Hutton's position, and allows that there may have been some misunderstanding, was similarly nonplussed.

"He has a point," says McMahon, "But yeah, I believed him, when he said people weren't going... I think he's basically making excuses for the lack of manpower. It's common knowledge throughout the community that it's a joke to try get hold of an officer any more."

Hutton also tried to emphasize, as have management sources previously, that the thinning of detachment strength was due to the move to 24 hour policing. He portrayed it as a decision the community would have to make, between having stronger coverage and having 24 hour coverage.

"If parts of this community," said Hutton, "only want their officers to work 10 hours a week or 20 hours a week, that can be communicated to our detachment commander, and he or she will have to sit down and weigh those possibilities."

However, Hutton's view of the situation aside, the Minden detachment's force is known to be five officers short of levels a year ago, due to retirements and long-term secondments. And officers present for the meeting, knowing that fact, had more than a few words for Hutton about his spin on the issue.

Among their concerns: that despite management's claims, officers are overworkedand the force is stretched dangerously thin. Officers are being expected to do a great deal that they didn't have to do before, due to administrative cutbacks. This takes them away from the front lines, and reducing the amount of

It's down to the wire for the Lions' ducks

24 hour operation while options are considered

Current staffing continues at Hospital until Thanksgiving

by Andrew Milne

A plan to have ambulance personnel on duty at the Minden hospital through the night has been shelved.

The hospital will, however, remain open 24 hours. A registered nurse will be kept on duty to make this possible.

The proposal would have brought ambulance personnel to the hospital for the night shift, from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m., with a nurse kept on call for contingencies.

The proposal has not yet been ruled out as a possibility in the future, however, according to a health board press release. Rather, the nurses' unions have asked for a little longer to consider its ramifications.

The unions — CUPE representing registered practical nurses, and the ONA representing registered nurses — hadn't even seen a formal proposal until August 23, around a week before hospital administrator Foster Loucks had hoped to implement the plan.

The proposal will mean a loss in hours for RPNs at the facility.

The fledgling Haliburton Highlands Health Services (HHHS) board says it considered the plan because it cannot afford to run a deficit at the Minden and Haliburton hospitals. Both hospitals, like most rural hospitals, have been running deficits for years. The HHHS is newly incorporated this year, and has no reserves.

A number of nurses at the facility has criticized the decision, asking why Minden Hospital seems to be bearing the brunt of the board's cuts. Since the summer of 1995, the facility has lost its inpatient ward, 11 of its 13 full-time employees, and has seen its dwindling emergency service cut to one RN and one RPN on duty daily. (See letter to the editor, page 8.)

The latest decision seems to have been made with some haste, late last week.

Says CUPE representative Gwen Hewitt, "As of Thursday afternoon this past week, we walked away with the understanding that the facility would be open 12 hours a day... I had a local membership meeting Thursday night to inform people what their particular hours would be. Then Foster made every effort to reach me Friday morning to let me know about the new operation that was taking place. So sometime between five Thursday and nine o'clock Friday, things changed."

"I have very mixed feelings. I'm glad to see the facility is still open 24 hours, but I think we still have some work to do to maintain standards of care. And there are still a number of practical issues that will have to be worked through with this as well... One of the reasons I think they've gone to the RN has to do with the timing — there wouldn't have been enough time to get everything in place. It certainly avoids some of the labour problems that would have occurred if the ambulance staff had come in, but it doesn't avoid them all."

Four RPNs will be affected by the hours reductions, losing "a significant number" of hours, according to Hewitt. RPNs will be on 7.5 hours a day, seven days a week.

Says Jeanette Gibbons, the Minden hospital's rep for the ONA, "I haven't had a chance to talk with our president yet, but overall, I know forsure the RNs are pleased. They're pleased the facility is 24 hours. We have some minor concerns, but we're sure they can be worked out... As in any other situation, when we're really busy and over-stressed, we'll have to call in help, but overall, we're really pleased, and hoping we're going to be able to cope."

Hospital administration sources said, in a press release late last week, that though "the parties agreed the objectives of the proposal had merit, there were implications of the agreement that would have contravened collective agreements and therefore, require further discussion. Everyone was prepared to explore other possibilities in a timely fashion."

Go sir, you cannot stay, For there are no more dragons left here to slay.

With great gratitude and honour I surrender my warrant and my weapon to you, brave but gentle knight whose road will be long and dangerous....

It was a day of mixed emotions Thursday as Constable Ron Buchanan, an OPP veteran of over 30 years, and Probationary Constable Mike Bennett, the junior officer at the Minden detachment, exchanged the words above.

The lines, taken (with some licence) from Cantebury Tales, have become a tradition (for some) at the Minden detachment. When a veteran officer retires and surrenders his badge and side-arm, it is handed over to the junior member of the detachment.... a passing of the torch and responsibility between fellow officers and generations.

Senior Constable Buchanan, badge number 3434, known to most in the county as "Bucky", retired after spending all but two years of his OPP career in Minden. He joined the force in 1967 as a Probationary Constable in Peterborough. Two years later he was transferred to Minden and it has been his home ever since.

Minden is very much the place Bucky calls home. The son of an officer of the armed forces, most of his early years were spent moving from one military posting to another. "Minden is where I have spent most of my life and it is where I intend to stay," he declared following his official retirement.

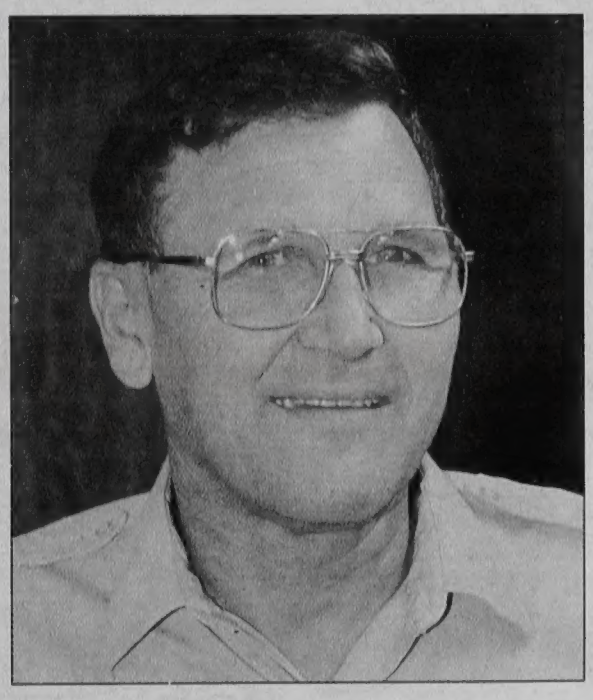
Bucky is philosophical about his career in the OPP. He is grateful that the OPP has provided for him and his family during the past 30 years, but like any career spanning that amount of time, it had both its ups and downs.

"It was a pleasure to work at this detachment with its high morale. We are more like family here...we always were able to work out our problems," he commented.

His last few years on the force have left an indelible impression on him. As the detachment's community relations officer, Bucky was responsible for visiting schools, lake associations and seniors groups, among others. His task was to help them understand the workings of the police, provide safety instruction and act as a liaison between the public and the force. "I always came away from the school with a laugh. It was great working with the kids," he said.

Likewise he enjoyed visiting with seniors and lake associations at their annual meetings, often taking time during a day off to ensure the force was represented. Always a bit of a 'ham', he enjoyed the opportunity to speak to these groups and inevtably ensured that his message, though serious, was delivered with a touch of humour.

Naturally over his 30 years on the force he has noticed a great deal of changes. "When I started there were 13 officers and one stenographer at the Minden detachment. Our complement went up to 24-25 a short time later, following the death of two constables." He noted that when he joined the force there were no female constables and it has been only in the past few years that two females have been posted to the Minden office.



Ron Buchanan, former Ontario Provincial Police Sr. Constable 3434, retired Thursday August 29.

"Thirty years ago all one needed to join the force was a grade ten education, he recalled." Today all the new recruits have university degrees, and the standards at the police college, for both physical and mental abilities, are much higher. "This is as it should be. We need a modern force for a modern world."

There are no big plans waiting for Bucky now that he is retired. "I'll take it one day at a time," he said. "There are some things I've got to do around the house. There will be more time for fishing and maybe a vacation." He noted that his wife Denise will not have to pack any more lunches, but also he won't be able to use work as an excuse for undone projects around the house.

With his badge and weapon officially returned to the force at noon, Bucky still put in a full day on the job Thursday. He joined fellow officer Ken Wesley on patrol and on the way, visited friends he had made during his career at the Minden detachment.

Tenacity

It was a sad day last week when we bid goodbye to former reeve and friend of the community, Lyle McKnight. His contributions are many and extend well beyond his service as an elected representative. Our lasting memory of the man will be of his tenacity and perseverance.

It was this quality, wrapped in a package of gentleness, that drew the admiration of those who knew him, a quality that served him well as a businessman, politician and community leader. It was a quality that was also to serve him well following his stroke more than ten years ago. Lesser men would have been stopped in their tracks by such an burden, but not Lyle McKnight. After a short period of recuperation, he returned to his responsibilities, slowed somewhat, but still eager to make a contribution, to see things improve.

We had the pleasure of travelling to Europe with Lyle and Linda and a group of area residents in 1986. A 20 day bus tour such as this one is trying, even for who count themselves among the able-bodied. Despite his reduced mobility, Lyle always found the energy and drive to keep going. He ably represented the community during our official welcome to the Mayor of Minden Germany, and as the group toured museums, castles, churches and tourist sites throughout Europe he never missed a stop.

His tenacity set an example for all on the tour, was instrumental in his successful approach to life and helped sustain him through his final years.

1600 signatures and counting

The community obviously wants the security and protection of having its own OPP detachment back in Minden. The question now: Is there anyone listening in Queen's Park?

For the want of a nurse....

Editor:

As both the Haliburton Echo and the Minden Times report on the subject of 24 hour emergency coverage at the Minden Hospital with what seems to be a biased opinion, we feel it is necessary to bring to light the facts.

Under the proposed plan, a registered nurse would be paid to stay on call for the 12 hour period overnight. This translates into $2.50 an hour for a total of $30 to be on call. If, on the rare occasion, the nurse is called in and required to stay for the entire 12 hour period, the cost to the hospital would be $350. This latter scenario is highly unlikely.

Minden residents have made sincere efforts to obtain 24 hour emergency coverage, which they feel is essential to their community. The true cost of providing 24 hour emergency service at Minden Hospital for the additional nine months of the year is really just the payment of one registered nurse for 12 hours, less than $80,000 a year.

December 1, 1995, Minden Hospital sustained major lay-offs with 11 of its 13 full-time staff eliminated. Through the winter, the maintenance department was completely shut down, the X-ray department was reduced to four hours a day and laundry, dietary and housekeeping were combined and reduced to four hours daily. Initially, the two office staff members were eliminated, but then one staff member was brought back for one, then two then three days a week. Daily for a 12 hour period, there was one RPN (Registered Practical Nurse) and one RN (Registered Nurse) on duty.

These cuts saved HHHS in the vicinity of $400,000. So, if there was a $4000 deficit going into the summer, as reported in May, at which site does this deficit arise?

The Minden Hospital has given up a lot and indicated a real effort at cost saving. If the deficit does not arise from the Minden Hospital, why should it endure any more cuts? Surely the residents of Minden and area should be provided with the funds necessary to provide adequate nursing care during the night timer hours.

Physiotherapy, albeit a welcome addition to any community service, is not an essential service. The provision of emergency care is! The residents of Minden and area do, however, have grave concerns over the division of HHHS resources when approximately $150,000 goes to physiotherapy services in Haliburton and $80,000 cannot be dedicated to en-

'..even access to junk'

Editor:

Re: August 26 Editorial: The Left Thing! (In response to jb's The Right Thing)

30 years ago the 'sheeple' of Canada were sucked into a socialized health care system. The advocates claimed that our good government wouldn't dream of controlling doctors, practices, procedures etc. They would "Just pay for it". Opponents then as now say 1.It will drive up costs. 2. People will abuse the system. 3. Waiting lists and hospital closures will result. 4. Eventually it will mean even access to junk.

Just for one minute can you see if the government said "All Canadians are entitled to free food." At first you would see a rise in demand for steak and fancy food. The best restaurants would go crazy with profits. The lowest of unthinking bums would butt in front of normal patrons claiming that "It's my turn to get even". After a short period food would represent 70% of our G.N.P. Only after the food market had been destroyed, the deficit driven up and inflation gone wild would the government panic into a bad decision to fix their first bad decision. Perhaps a politician would ask out loud if we could cap the earnings of the best food producers, demand only 20 lbs of steak to the best establishments a week, etc. The unthinking sheeple would scream "It's big business's fault!" Some people would say "I liked it when it first came out" without having the brains to see that any private enterprise will look good at first until the effects of government control take effect.

Now back to today.

The U.K. socialized its health care in the 50's. Today seniors are routinely sent home to die if the life saving procedure costs too much. Waiting periods of over two years for a hip replacement.

In the U.S.A. things are a little different. Medicare and Medicade take care of the seniors and the poverty cases by taxing the rest to death. The government controls over hospitals and doctors has driven the costs through the roof. Malpractice insurance costs over 25% of a doctor's income and many tests and procedures are done to safeguard the doctor in the event of litigation. It is no wonder the cost of health care insurance is unaffordable to most people.

If you think a doctor should be your slave, being paid below market value while saving your life, please have the guts to admit it. You are in good company with the old USSR and Nazi Germany.

If, like me, you neither seek nor grant unearned rewards and wish to pay our fellow his worth for his services, thank you. We are the ones who support the honest worker and honest caregiver. The rest are the dishonest blood suckers that want credit and glory while they destroy health care in Canada!

Where do you stand?

Jim Battarbee, Minden

suring essential emergency services at Minden.

We would like to clarify one further point often misleading to the public in the local news reports. The Ontario government, through the Ministry of Health, pays rural physicians from 8 p.m. until 8 a.m. daily, plus 24 hours over weekends and all holidays. Therefore, the cost to the hospital is incurred from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m., Monday to Fridays only. As these are classically the busiest hours, the physicians usually can see and then bill for enough patients that they do not cost the hospital any money.

We would like to heartily thank the physicians who have come from outside our community and have facilitated in keeping the Minden Hospital alive. The care and professional expertise the patients in this area have received has been superb.

In closing, we feel that 24 hour emergency medical care should be equally accessible to all residents of our county, no matter where they reside. The Minden Hospital has proven that it can function effectively and compassionately despite drastic cutbacks. As we are already a "bare bones" operations, asking us to work with further cutbacks is not just or fair. The budgeting cuts must be made elsewhere.

Service appreciated

Editor:

Having spent a few days at Lakeview Lodge on the northern part of Soyers Lake, I dropped my Canon 35 mm camera in the water.

I took it to Perfect Prints Image Centre in Haliburton. The staff was very helpful and courteous. Luke Schell, the manager, took my camera, dried it, saved the prints and repaired my auto focus lens, as it had sand in it. He spent over two hours on it and charged only a small fee.

It would have cost five times as much in Toronto.

Luke Schell's One Hour Photo in Haliburton is A-1 and I was impressed with the professionalism of the staff. We need more of these people in a rushed society. They took time to deliver top service and that was much appreciated.

Shussing through downtown Tokyo

It takes only a year or two for the exaggerations to come true. Nothing will remain in the next ten years. Or there will be twice as much of it.

Warren Bennis

That's the thing about the future: it always surprises you. Who would have guessed, 15 years ago, that we would be walking around today with chocolate-bar-sized wedges of plastic jammed to our ears, chattering about Websites, a movie about a pig called Babe and the former Soviet Union?

Not to mention sports. Fifteen years ago the Toronto Raptors and Vancouver Grizzlies would have sounded like some kind of an environmental update. And the Anaheim Mighty Ducks would have been the punch line in some stand-up comic's act.

The world of sports has become totally unreal. How unreal?

Take downhill skiing.

In Tokyo.

It is now possible to emerge from the Minami-Funabishi subway station about 30 minutes from downtown Tokyo, exchange your business suit for a set of downhill togs and for about 4,300 yen (approximately $75 Canadian) spend the evening schussing down a 300-foot artificial ski slope in the Tokyo Ski Dome.

The Ski Dome features man-made snow, two chromium yellow quadruple ski lifts and a pair of runs that are 1,600 feet long.

And it's all inside a building.

What's more, Ski Dome is just one of seven indoor ski areas you can find in Japan and make use of any time of the year.

Black 'n White
by Arthur Black

Makes you wonder about the future of places like Whistler and Mont Tremblant. Sure, the scenery is better in Canada... but it's mighty tough to run those moguls in August.

Of course Japan has a bit of a history of enclosing outdoor sports in shrink-wrap. Entrepreneurs in Tokyo, Osaka and Kyoto long ago mastered the dynamics of the indoor golf game. It is possible to play nine holes on a number of Japanese golf courses which run up and down instead of out and about. You shoot a towering tee-shot from the third floor, take an elevator down to the second floor and with luck, find yourself just a short putt from the green.

A Japanese aberration you think? Not necessarily. Last December, the World Team Masters Ski Jumping Competition was held in the shadow of the World Trade Centre in deepest, darkest, downtown Manhattan. Granted, the ski jumpers landed only about 30 metres from the ramp, as opposed to the 190-odd metres jumpers normally cover - but this was in downtown New York! It's only a matter of time before some Donald Trumpish sports tycoon puts up a building that will easily accommodate the Matti Nykanens and Steve Collinses of the ski jumping world.

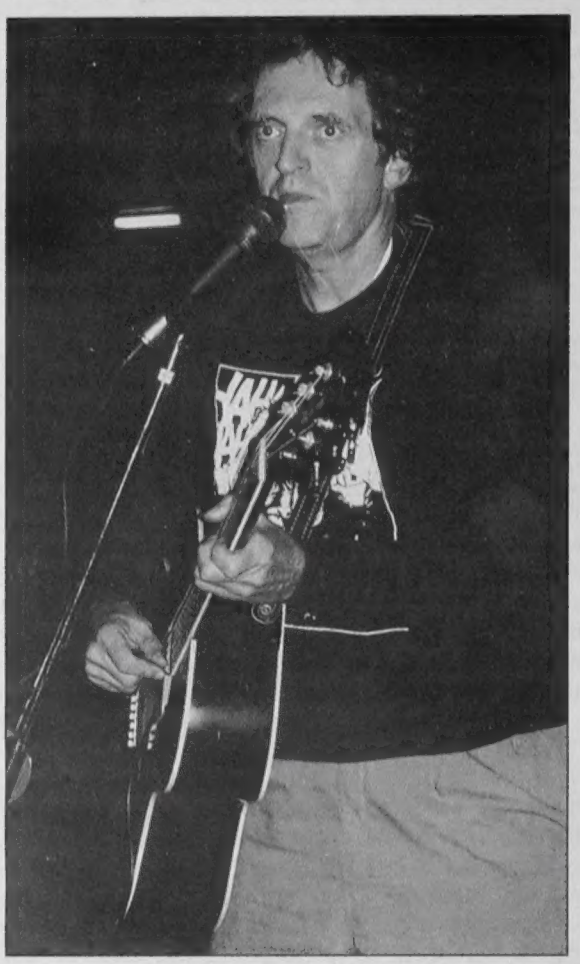
What next? Indoor Triathlons? Enclosed mountain-climbing? I'm not sure, but right here in North America it's now possible to custom-order your own trout stream.

Steve Fisher will be happy to do this job for you. Steve's a contractor who lives in Missoula, Montana. He specializes in building custom-made trout streams. You call Steve in and the first thing he does is whomp you up a five-foot waterfall, built out of fibreglass "rocks". The waterfall feeds into a twenty foot long stream that ends in a pond. A hidden irrigation system of pumps and aerators keeps the five thousand gallons of water you'll need bubbling... just like a real stream. Fisher even supplies bulrushes, lily pads, insects and of course trout, just to make the whole thing worthwhile.

Cheap? Not really. You'll need at least a half-acre of land and about $35,000 before you can wet your line in your own private Steve-Fisher-designed trout stream. But I guess folks who have a bad case of the fishing bug are like ski nuts who would ruin an otherwise nice trip to Tokyo by lining up for lift tickets outside the Tokyo Ski Dome.

How was it that the humourist P.J. O'Rourke defined skiing? "It consists of wearing $3,000 worth of clothes and equipment and driving 200 miles in snow in order to stand at a bar and get drunk."

Still, it's better than fishing I guess. Someone defined fishing as "a jerk at one end of a line waiting for a jerk at the other."



Final concert of the summer

The final concert in the Music by the Gull series was held Friday night and featured solo performer Doug Goodeve. Due to automobile problems, the performer was late in arriving in the community, but was able to provide an entertaining hours of music and song between 8 and 9 p.m. Goodeve is a seasonal resident who regularly performs throughout the Toronto area. He noted the posters advertising the musical series and offered his services. His repertoire included a cross-section of music including ballads, folk tunes and old-time favourites. The free concerts were sponsored by the Minden Business Improvement Area (BIA) with the assistance of the Minden and District Lions Club.

Trial set for October11

High school teacher Frank Wallace will stand trial on charges of sexual assault and sexual exploitation October 11.

Wallace faces the charges following allegations from two former students.

The accused appeared in provincial court in Lindsay Thursday of last week for a preliminary hearing with respect to the second set of charges — sexual assault level I and sexual exploitation — brought forward with respect to the second alleged victim. The charges were laid August 23.

The first set of charges, referring to the first alleged victim — five counts of sexual exploitation — were laid March 27, and have already passed preliminary hearing.

Both sets of charges will be heard at the October trial.

There is a publication ban on evidence given at last week's hearing, and on any information which might lead to the identification of the alleged victims.

Sexual exploitation is a criminal statute specifically applying to persons "in a position of trust or authority" — parents, teachers, counsellors or coaches — over young people aged 14 to 18. It covers sexual touching or invitation to the same.

Sexual assault level I is a criminal charge covering sexual assaults not involving physical injury or a weapon.

PineStone Charity Golf Classic raises $4,076

PineStone's inaugural Charity Golf Classic was a huge success, raising $4,076 for the Haliburton Highlands Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario.

Twenty-four four-person teams competed for a variety of prizes and everyone went home a winner, especially the local Heart and Stroke Chapter.

With the cancellation of the Andreychuk Classic this year, PineStone officials decided to host their own charity golf fund-raiser. This very successful event was organized in six short weeks. PineStone General Manager Andy Frappier gives much of the credit to Denise Meeks, his executive assistant, who co-ordinated the event.

"She's not a golfer herself, but she did a great job," Frappier said.

Frappier was pleased with the way the community supported the event. Thanks to the local businesses, all of the golfers went home with a prize of some kind.

Ken Rosenberg won a Ram golf bag, donated by Molson Ontario Breweries as closest to the pin on hole #3. A set of golf clubs, donated by Elstone Motors was on the line for anyone who had a hole-in-one on the third, but the prize went unclaimed.

The ladies' longest drive on the sixth earned Laurie Jaworowicz a watch by Akleo, donated by Molson.

A trip to Scotland was up for grabs on hole #7 for anyone who aced it. Again, the prize went unclaimed. Phil Smith was closest to the pin on the seventh, earning a 1997 golf membership, donated by PineStone Resort and Conference Centre.

The hole-in-one prize for hole #11 was a cruise for two, donated by Elstone Motors, but nobody was able to collect. Don Collins was the closest to the pin with his drive. That won him a weekend golf getaway, donated by PineStone.

The prize for men's longest drive went to Dennis Halabecki. He collected a One Iron, donated by Guiness, and a plaque to commemorate the occasion.

A hole-in-one on the 17th would have earned the skillful (lucky) golfer a Chrysler Neon car, which was provided by Elstone Motors. The car is back on the Elstone lot, since no one was able to ace the hole. Paul Gibbens came closest to the pin on the 17th. That was good for a set of golf clubs, donated by PineStone.

Steve McCracken won the putting contest, taking home a Nichlaus Bear putter and a plaque.

The foursome with the top score of the tournament won the Paul Strano Memorial Trophy. Members of the winning team were Dale MacNair, John Bragg, Brad Vaughan and Randy Ward.

The top score for a mixed team was recorded by the foursome of Roman Jaworowicz, Laurie Jaworowicz, Bruce Gowdy and Doug Gowdy.

READY FOR ACTION: A total of 96 golfers took part in the inaugural PineStone Charity Golf Tournament August 25. The event raised more than $4,000 for the Haliburton Highlands Chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Actifest, Seniors Games

Minden man part of silver medal team

by Jerry Grozelle

Eric Stearns of Minden and Doreen Spiers of Fenelon Falls won the silver medal in the darts competition at Actifest, the Ontario Seniors' Games.

The two play darts together at the Kinmount Legion, where they are both members.

Stearns says they weren't even in contention after the first day of the two-day competition. But their luck changed the second day and they walked through the competition on the way to the championship final against Jean and Alfred Hale of Timmins.

"We won the first game of the finals and they squeaked by in the second game," Stearns said. "It was so close it could have gone either way."

The Hales needed a double three to win in the deciding game. They had six darts to win the championship. But each attempt missed the mark.

Doreen Spiers and Eric Stearns with their silver medals.

When Stearns stepped up to the line, his team needed 64 points. With his first two darts, Stearns closed the gap to 24 points. All he needed was a double 12 with his last dart to win the gold medal. "I don't usually have any trouble with the double 12," he said.

But, he speculates that the pressure of the shot may have tensed him up enough that when he threw the dart, it hit the wire surrounding the double 12 and bounced out.

That gave the opposing team the opportunity to put it away. Alfred Hale's first two darts were both a mere whisker off the mark. His third shot struck the fletching of one of his previous darts and went into the double three to grab the gold medal and leave Stearns and Spiers with the silver.

Stearns and Spiers had won all four of their games of that second day's preliminary matches, in two straight. Only the championship final went to the third game.

The preliminaries were divided into three flights. The local team won the B flight on the way to the championship match.

"I've been to an awful lot of tournaments and this was the best run event I've ever attended in all my 70 years," Stearns said. "I really enjoyed the Actifest tournament."

Spiers and Stearns were gold medalists last year, and as winners, their home venue, the Kinmount Legion, hosted the District competition. They were gold medalists again at the district level in 1996.

Another highlight of the event for Stearns, was shaking hands with Governor General Romeo LeBlanc.

44 players needed for Oldtimers' Hockey League in Minden

by Jerry Grozelle

Wanted: 44 hockey players aged 35 or over.

A group of 35-plus hockey players is organizing an oldtimers' hockey league in Minden.

"It's something that's been talked about in Minden for some time," said Dorian Malloy, one of the organizers. "We're trying to get it off the ground this year."

The goal is to have four teams, with 11 players per team.

Malloy says registration will be on a first come, first serve basis. The first 44 players to sign up would

"We're hoping to get started about the first October," Malloy said, adding that it will be a 25-game schedule, followed by playoffs.

Arena management has been contacted and arrangements have been made for the league to play Wednesday nights. Starting time hasn't been finalized at this point, but the ice is booked by the Minden Skating Club until 8 p.m. on Wednesdays, so the games would have to start after that.

The organizers are also looking for sponsorship for each of the four teams -- local businesses to purchase sweaters.

"There's lots of talk around town," Malloy said. "There seems to be some interest."

The middle of September will tell the tale of whether there is enough interest. Organizers will have to know by then whether or not they have the required 44 players so they can get a schedule drafted and determine personnel for each team. If they don't have enough players signed up by then, the league probably won't fly this season.

Cost of registration will be in the $140 range, Malloy speculates.

Organizers will be having a meeting this week to finalize some of the details.

If you are interested in playing in this league or sponsoring a team, organizers would be happy to hear from you in the next week or two. The contacts are Dorian Malloy (286-4667), Lawrence Lougheed (286-4106) or Mike Keaney (286-1561 or 286-4256).

Haliburton couple wins gold medal in contract bridge

by Jerry Grozelle

Wilhelmina and Jack Cox of Haliburton earned top honours in the provincial Seniors' Games in Richmond Hill last week, coming home with gold medals in the contract bridge competition.

Actifest '96, the official name of the Seniors' Games, saw a total of about 30 to 40 people from District 11, (Muskoka-Haliburton) competing with the province's best in 15 events over the two days of the competitions. Thirty-nine districts were represented from across the province, with more than 1,600 vying for a total of 45 medals.

"The competition to get out of District 11 is really tough," said Wilhelmina. "There are a lot of really good players in the Haliburton and Muskoka district."

The team that earned the right to compete in the Actifest games was unable to attend. In such cases, the district coordinator goes down the list and asks the second, third, and subsequent finishers until a team that is able to attend is found.

"We weren't even in the top three," Wilhelmina admitted. "It turned out very well. It was fun... It was nice to get the chance to be there."

The husband and wife team agreed that they were glad they were able to participate. And winning the gold medal was a real bonus.

Jack Cox said he was really impressed with the way the competitions were run.

"They had shuttle buses from the hotel to the event," he said. "We really appreciate what they did."

This was the fourth year Jack and Wilhelmina have competed. Jack also participates in the golf and crokinole competitions at the district level. He has earned several medals in district competitions.

Wilhelmina said she was really impressed with the support of the district people.

"It was easy to spot the other members of the Muskoka-Haliburton District," Jack added. "We were all wearing the Haliburton tartan vests.

The provincial Seniors' Games are held every other year. The 1998 competitions will be hosted by Windsor.

Currently, there are no national seniors' competitions. But a group is trying to get such an event started. If a national event does become established, the plan is to have the Canadian championships during the years between provincial events.

GOLD MEDALISTS: Wilhelmina and Jack Cox, of Haliburton, brought home the gold from Actifest (the Ontario Seniors' Games) in Richmond Hill last week. They topped a field from 39 Districts across the province, in the contract bridge competition. Although they didn't finish among the top three teams at the District level, they were at the top of the list of those who were able to make the trip to Richmind Hill for the Games on August 27 and 28.

Minden hosts firemen's games

Firefighters from throughout Haliburton County converged on the Minden Fair Grounds Sunday August 25 for the annual firemen competitions. The games, in addition to being a lot of fun to watch and take part in, also test the skills and endurance of the firemen. As the photos here demonstrate, it was an enjoyable day for all concerned.

24 hour policing stretches OPP manpower policing they are able to get done. Moving to 24 hour policing, with fewer officers to go around, they say, hasn't helped either.

"The point is," said one officer, "that we're trying to stretch our resources as thin as possible, and we don't seem to be getting replacements... We're supposed to have three detectives. We've never had them. Right now we're down to one."

"Don't see it as one," said Hutton. "Between the three detachments, there should be 12."

"There's one covering Haliburton County," responded the officer.

"But if there was a murder here," said Hutton, "those six out of Lindsay or three out of Coboconk could get here."

"No," said another. "Because the detectives in Lindsay are already doing homicides."

Hutton also suggested that the reorganization should allow the Minden and Coboconk officers to be redistributed according to need, easing manpower difficulties, and said he is doing his best to get people into the detachment.

Said Hutton, "In the past two and a half years, we've hired 1,000 new men and women. But a lot of them went north, and a lot of the constables sitting here tonight had to respond to me a few weeks ago why they shouldn't go north, because three or four hundred of those young officers have now served their duration in the north, and they want to come down here... Knowing the concern over here, and because we want to do the right thing, and because we want to look good, and because we want to stop a lot of letters, I did pick five people last month to go north, and none of them from this area. So we are listening. We do know your concerns... Hopefully if we're doing the right things, and we're saving the money we think we should be saving, come January we'll be hiring another 50 to 100 constables. Hopefully I'll get some of them, and we'll replace people."

Radio dead spots

Hutton also took heat on the communications grid. Goverde's organization, among others, has previously stated that the radio communications around the area have some notable dead spots, where constables are out of contact with the communications centre.

Hutton actually raised the issue himself.

"Constables aren't complaining about the radio system," he said. "If there's a problem here tonight, I'd like one of the constables to stand up and tell us. Because the people that are responsible for radio systems are telling us there's no problem."

The constables then did just that, naming dead areas in which communication was either sporadic, or nonexistent, from one centre, forcing them to switch to another communications unit.

"Why wouldn't you just pick up the phone and tell them?" asked Hutton.

"A lot of these areas, it's a long way between phones," responded an officer. "We try to tell them if we know we're going in there beforehand. But it is a problem."

Hutton did later acknowledge that complaints from Dorset area residents regarding the response time from the Barrie communications unit were valid.

"It is a serious problem," he said. "We're well aware of it, and we're trying to improve it."

The meeting, which lasted well over an hour, was eventually adjourned by Fearrey, after a lengthy discussion between the officers and Hutton.

Anthon says she's glad people are talking, but it's worrying to see the obvious stress the officers are under.

Says Anthon, "They're very frustrated, and that's very concerning, because I think that makes it much more difficult for an area to keep their officers happy and to be assured they can do a good job."

Anthon also was surprised, she said, to hear Hutton say the OPP's own model says the region now needs fewer officers.

"Well of course the populations have increased, and he also admitted that their duties have expanded, so how can they decrease the numbers?" she asked.

Community policing members present said some progress was made at the meeting.

Said Goverde, "I really have no problem with the oath of secrecy. Any of us would do that, I'm sure. We've been asking for this for years. We've been promised that for years... I think it's great that we're having this meeting, and getting a chance to talk like this to you. We should have done this years ago.

"Everyone is anxious to help. But it has to be up front, and honest."

SIGN DRAW WINNER: The Minden Sign Draw, for a weekend package for two at Hart Lodge, four golf packages at Beaverbrook Golf Course, a go cart package at Pole Position and $200, was won by Bob and Dot and Bob Muirhead of Minden. Dot Muirhead was presented with the winnings by Lori Roberts (left)of the fund-raising committee.

Lake levels above average: TSW

Wetter weather continues to make its presence felt usually about once per week this summer. Rains overnight, August 27, added about 3 cm to all the Kawarthas perpetuating the surplus condition we've had there. Flows along the Otonabee are being increased to help reduce this again and this will result in discharge well above normal for this time of year.

In Haliburton, the lakes declined 2.2% over the past week. The usual summer decline rate is about 3.5% per week. At 68.3% these lakes are about 10% higher than the 21 year average for this date and nearly 4% higher than in 1995. Flows well above minimum are continuing from Haliburton for this reason. An increasing surplus could cause trouble in a few weeks because autumn usually sees higher runoff than summer. Reduced evaporation rather than increased rainfall is often the cause.

In September, some lakes decline more rapidly than others to enhance Lake Trout spawning success. These are Kushog and Big Bob on the Gull River system. After Labour Day, shoreline residents on these lakes will probably notice a difference. On the other lakes, summer practices generally continue until Thanksgiving. Very wet conditions could interfere with any of these practices.

Born in SEPTEMBER?
BIRTHSTONE: SAPPHIRE (Blue-Transparent)
FLOWER ASTER

The ancient Persians believed that the earth rested on a gigantic blue sapphire with the sky a mirror for its radiant blue. Sapphires were said to attract divine favor.

The significance of the beautiful sapphire is clear thinking and wisdom.

It comes from Siam, India, Burma, Ceylon, Australia and the United States.

Residents treated to outings

Another month appears to be gone and there are many events going on at Hyland Crest. We've had lots of great entertainment this month provided by the Coopers, the Grandfathers, the Fearreys, Northern Jam, C & M Musicmakers, Gord Kidd and a dance party with Dorothy and the girls.

Senior League
by Horace Brown

The picnic at the Haliburton County Fair was much enjoyed. The Fair Board provided us with a marquee right near the grandstand. We were able to see the parade, hear the music and visit with all our friends. Several of us went out to the Red Umbrella Inn for lunch. We were treated like royalty by Lynn and her staff. While we were there a very wonderful thing happened - a very good samaritan, who would not give us her name, gave the residents a very substantial donation toward the bill. We thank her from the bottom of our hearts.

On Thursday, August 29, we enjoyed immensely a boat cruise from Lindsay on the Scugog River and lunch at Neabors Restaurant. It was a wonderful day and we had great weather.

Spiritually, we have been well provided for by our regular Sunday and Tuesday services and, of course, the Hymn Sing by Pastor Powers Gospel Singers is always enjoyed.

Many thanks to all the volunteers who assist us. Without you, none of this would be possible.

Our sympathies to the family of Laura Dean who passed away last week.

We look forward to upcoming events in September.

CARDS OF THANKS

Arthur and Betty Turner would like to thank Karen and Bill Harding of Toronto and Bob Lake for the wonderful surprise birthday party at Howard Johnson's Easton July 30, 1996. Many thanks to Dave Gilmore for his kind remembrance showing the Pioneer Uniform of the 1940's as well as the original group picture. All those attending from the Pioneer group brought back many happy memories to us - you are remembered in our prayers. A special thank you to Ed who chauffered the crew from Bob Lake - also attending from Bob Lake were Ron and Barb Sullivan and Dave. If we have missed your name, forgive us, but it was a fun and busy night. A special hug to Don for passing the word.
Thanks for the memories,
Art & Betty Turner.

A big Thank You to everyone who purchased tickets and/or came to the Jack & Jill Barbecue held in our honour. The overwhelming support of both family and friends will forever be remembered.
See you on October 4!
Love,
Autumn and Bill.

IN MEMORIAM

HAMILTON, Norma - In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away September 8, 1993.
We watched you suffer, we watched you sigh,
But all we could do was just stand by
When the time came, we suffered too
You never deserved what you went through.
God saw you getting tired and so He took your hand
And we had to part.
If you could have spoken before you died,
These are the words you would have replied
"This life for me has truly passed
I have loved you till the very last.
Weep not for me but courage take
Love one another for my sake."
We will all meet again never to part.
Lovingly remembered,
Walter and Family.
